By FRED HAMPSON
HONG KONG.—(P)—Russians are streaming into Shanghai, 88 foreigners just arrived from Communist China said today.

"You don't see them so much as you feel them." That was the comment of one of the arrivals, the first large group to get out of Shanghai since the Reds eased their ban on train travel by foreigners.

Reds Hog Housing
Best estimate of these foreigners is that about 5,000 Russians are in Shanghai—mostly civilian technicians and political workers. Not a one saw a Russian in military uniform.

This was in contrast to many reports that have filtered into Hong Kong. These within recent weeks have had Russian soldiers patrolling Shanghai streets, manning anti-aircraft defenses and

Axe Sharpened For Gen. Kunzig

LANSING.—(P)—Gen. Louis A. Kunzig, backed by a supreme court order, was back on the job as business manager of the State Liquor Control commission today, but the Democratic-controlled commission appeared to be whetting a new ax for him.

The court Tuesday upset the commission's ouster of Kunzig and the abolition of his $10,300 a year job in a reorganization move.

Harry Henderson, the sole Republican commissioner, who charged Kunzig's initial ouster was "political raiding," declared today that his two Democratic colleagues appeared to be seeking a "subterfuge" to get rid of Kunzig despite the court order.

He said the other commissioners appeared to be planning an attempt to make Kunzig's job "insignificant."

Chairman John J. Kozaren said Kunzig was restored to his job pending "further arrangements" as to what duties he will assign him.

Kozaren said "I never have been aware of what his duties were, except as a bottleneck. That's why we tried to abolish the job. We will contact the civil service commission and ask to have his job allocated again."

Italy Owes Russia 100 Million, Wants War Assets Credited

ROME.—(P)—Italy says she won't pay her $100,000,000 war reparations debt to Russia until agreement is reached on the value of Italian assets seized in Soviet satellite countries.

The Russians in a note yesterday pressed for payment out of current Italian production, charging that Italy had placed too great a value on her Balkan assets in Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania. The properties were to go in part payment of the reparations debt.

The reparations bill was agreed to under the peace treaty and in a subsequent agreement signed in 1948.

Bad Check Mistake
JACKSON.—(P)—Police said Ireland Salyers, 19, made the mistake of trying to pass a bad check a second time at the same place.

Mrs. Ralph Horton, wife of the proprietor of a local market, called police Wednesday after she recognized Salyers as the man who passed a $20 bad check there last Friday. Police also arrested James Sparks, 19, as an accomplice.

Williams Tries To Be Dictator, Kelly Declares

Candidate Criticizes Tactics In Lansing

LANSING.—(P)—Former governor Harry F. Kelly, seeking the Republican nomination for governor again, last night lashed Governor Williams for what the G. O. P. calls "dictator" tactics with the legislature.

The Republican-controlled legislature has complained that Williams will not let it use its best judgment on the solution of major financial and highway issues, but insists on his own way.

"Even as a Republican governor with a Republican legislature," Kelly told a news conference, "I couldn't get away with what this fellow is trying to do."

Michigan legislature's have never been "me-too" legislatures. No other governor ever tried to use the legislature as a political springboard in this way.

It's People's Money
Kelly gave open expression to a muttered legislative view that Williams has no legal right to restrict the legislature to his own ideas.

"I can't believe," Kelly said, "that the people intended a governor to tie the legislature so tight. He can't appropriate a dollar. It's the people's money and the people gave the legislature the right to decide how much to appropriate and in what way. I'm sure of that constitutionally, and I'm doubly sure of it as the proper way to approach a legislature."

Kelly described the feud between Williams and the legislature as "not a test between a Republican legislature and a Democratic governor but transcending that, of the things we have believed in since 1837. The people said not to let one branch of government usurp the powers of another."

Annual Session eeded
Kelly, attending a campaign organizational meeting attended by several score legislators and state figures, said Williams' refusal to let the lawmakers consider certain subjects was proof that Michigan needed regular annual legislative sessions. In regular sessions a governor cannot limit legislative sessions.

The ex-governor recalled that he had asked the legislature five years ago to increase the gasoline tax one cent to provide for heavy tax one year on state highways. "I didn't succeed, but if it had been done we'd be in good shape today," he said.

Kelly said Michigan depended on tourist traffic for much of its economic strength and state revenues and that poor highways would cost the state heavily. Other tourist states, he said, are increasing gasoline taxes to build good roads and Michigan should.

Wind was still drifting the highways early this afternoon but was reported "letting up."

Because they would have had to walk almost a mile across a field in the driving storm, Walter and Charles Thompson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Thompson of North Delta, were returned to Trenary by the school bus last night rather than endanger them. They stayed overnight at the home of Mrs. Joel Orava in Trenary and were returned to their home today.

The state police post in Gladstone reported a light snowfall and high winds in Marquette county and some slippery roads. The main highways were reported open, however.

"Heavy Going"
"Heavy going" was reported on highway M-28 in the Newberry vicinity and motorists were urged to avoid that area except in emergencies.

In Escanaba, the temperature reached a low of 16 above early today and the weather bureau offered little consolation, forecasting "partly cloudy and continued unseasonably cold" tonight with "fair and somewhat higher afternoon temperatures" tomorrow.

The weather bureau forecasts some rise in temperature Saturday. Six persons were injured and two of them were still in St. Francis hospital today as a result of two accidents late yesterday, both

Officer Slain By One-Armed Truck Driver

Crazed Man Is Found Dead After Siege

LANSING, Mich.—(P)—Blazing guns at a rural cabin yesterday took the lives of a Michigan state policeman and the man who killed him.

In the brief interval between the two deaths a cordon of 50 state troopers, Lansing city police and sheriff's officers had laid siege to the cabin near here with tear gas and gunfire.

Inside was an evidently crazed man. The slain trooper was George R. Branny, 26, a bridegroom of four months. Branny was shot as he knocked at the cabin door in answer to a trouble call.

Boozing Blamed
Also shot and killed—either by himself or a police volley—was Clarence Iler, 44, one-armed truck driver.

Troopers Branny and John R. Plants went to the cabin after getting a complaint from a neighbor woman that Iler was creating a disturbance.

Police said that later investigation disclosed that Iler, married and father of a 20-year-old son, had been drinking heavily.

Troopers Branny and Plants went to the front door of the small cabin and Branny knocked. A sudden shotgun blast from a small window beside the door killed Branny. Plants fired two or three shots at the window and took cover.

A neighbor youngster, 15-year-old Jerry Shimm, who had been standing near the troopers' squad car, climbed in and reported the shooting to headquarters on the car radio.

Last Blast Inside
Within moments a half hundred officers had surrounded the two-room cabin. Guns were trained on it and shots rang out.

One last blast sounded within the cabin. When officers entered, they found Iler lying dead, one of his two shotguns beside him. Powder burns indicated he had shot himself although he also was wounded in the leg by police fire.

Iler's wife, Edith, 46, was at work at the time and the son, Kenneth, also was absent. Mrs. Iler corroborated the story of her neighbor, Mrs. Thelma McCullen, that Iler had been drinking.

Some time ago Iler's right arm had been amputated below the elbow. He had fired his shotguns with his left hand.

Tel Aviv Audience Applauds Violinist Menuhin At $14 Each

TEL AVIV, Israel.—(P)—Anticipated unfavorable demonstrations failed to materialize last night for the first concert in Israel of violin virtuoso Yehudi Menuhin, whom the Israeli press had attacked bitterly for postwar appearances in Germany.

Instead a capacity audience of 1,500, who paid $14 admission apiece, warmly applauded the famous Jewish violinist and his pianist sister, Hepzibah.

A strong police guard cordoned off the auditorium and only ticket-holders were allowed to approach the building.

Zero Drop Tonight May End Cold Wave

Michigan shivered today in one of its most severe mid-April cold waves in history—and it'll be even colder tonight.

April showers of snow—rode into most of the state on a frigid wave sweeping down from the Polar regions.

U. S. forecasters said Upper Michigan will get temperatures ranging from zero to 10-above tonight. In Lower Michigan they predicted 5 to 10 in the north and 11 to 16 in the south.

Overnight lows ranged from 8 at Pellston and Cadillac to 19 in Budenz, now on a lecture tour which includes an address at Newberry, has said that he could name 400 concealed Communists in the United States. His Washington appearance is set for next Thursday.

April Colder Than January

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
WASHINGTON.—(P)—April, the month of new flowers and warm sunshine as well as showers, is acting more like January this year all over the east. The west is acting more normally.

In fact, weather bureau figures show that in Washington the first 11 days of April averaged colder than the same January period. The turnabout probably holds true in other eastern and some mid-western cities.

"April has started out five to 10 degrees below normal all over the northeastern quarter of the country and south to Florida," Lilburn H. Seamon, a weather bureau climatology expert, told a reporter.

"We're just paying for what we got in January."

January, you remember, was the warmest in record in scores of eastern cities.

"But for any January to be warmer than any April would be most unusual," Seamon said. Yet that's what's happening.

For instance, during the week ending April 11 temperatures in Atlanta averaged 55 degrees, one degree colder than its entire January average.

The same week, Cincinnati had an average temperature of 44, exactly the same as its January average. And Washington's average reading so far for April is 52 degrees, as against January's 53 average.

Bill Up In Lansing To Give Lake Seamen Unemployment Pay

Coal Industry Slump Blamed On High Prices

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
PITTSBURGH.—(P)—The nation's soft coal industry is suffering from curtailed production today while even greater woes are foreseen in the immediate future.

Industry spokesmen predict spreading unemployment and a chain of mine closings as a result of reduced coal output and the inroads of competitive fuels.

Mines Fold Up
The nation's 8,000 bituminous (soft coal) mines produced a record-breaking 631,000,000 tons in 1947. Now they are reverting to a normal market estimated at around 400,000,000 tons. Last year 430,000,000 tons was dug despite several strikes.

Many high cost or low quality mines already are being squeezed out. And thousands of miners are joining the ranks of job hunters.

The National Coal association estimates 50,000 coal miners will be jobless in coming months. Another 50,000 transport workers, who haul coal from mine to market also will be laid off, the NCA predicts, as the result of oil imports alone.

Natural gas and fuel oil continue to creep into fields once dominated by coal. Railroads are changing from coal burning locomotives to diesel engines.

Ask Local Tax Aid For Roads

Supervisors Close Busy Session

By majority vote the Delta county board of supervisors in closing session yesterday recommended to the county tax allocation commission that it allocate 2 mills of local tax to help bring Delta county roads "out of the mud."

The action followed heated discussion, with several township supervisors contending that 2 mills could be taken from the 7 mills received last year by the schools. Eight mills were allocated to the county.

The financial condition of the schools is better than that of the county or the road commission, said the supervisors advocating the allocation of 2 mills for county roads.

Ask State Aid

Supervisors Peder Pedersen of Stonington and Chester Feak of Ford River led the discussion favoring the 2 mills for roads after Sup. Omer Tangway, of Bark River, brought the question of inadequate road financing before the board.

Tangway, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, offered resolutions that were unanimously adopted by the board. One resolution was directed to the governor and representatives in the legislature asking gas and weight tax increases to meet road financing needs; and the second called upon the people of Delta county to write the governor and their representatives requesting passage of road aid legislation.

The motion to recommend the allocation of 2 mills of local tax to the road commission was made by Sup. Feak, supported by Pedersen. During a stormy debate that followed, the schools were charged with having too much money, and defended as under-financed and the teachers under-paid.

Cite Road Emergency

Proposals to have the 2-mill motion referred to committee for study, with a report to the June meeting of the board, were shouted down by township supervisors, who said the need for action is immediate and that a road financing emergency exists. A study and report to the June meeting would have delayed consideration of the 2-mill proposal for a year.

The recommendation to allocate 2 mills for county roads will be considered by the county tax allocation commission in May. Previously the roads have not shared in the allocation. Last year the schools received 7 and the county 8 of the total mills to be allocated.

Other business before the board in closing session included the following:

Approved the purchase of a painting of former Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunee to hang in the court room at the courthouse, in cooperation with five other counties in the circuit.

To Clean Court Rooms
Authorized the buildings and grounds committee to study and to act in having the court rooms cleaned and redecorated. A resolution requesting such action was received from the Delta County Bar Association.

Authorized the purchase of a tape recording machine costing $150 for the county agricultural agent, needed by him in preparing radio broadcasts.

Allowed an appropriation of $350 to the Upper Peninsula Children's Center at Marquette.

Approved renewal of a three-year lease of the Delta Convalescent Home to Mr. and Mrs. Max Holzgrobe.

Received a report that applicants are being interviewed for the position of county auditor, as previously authorized by the board.

Discussed county coal purchases and approved a motion to have the fuel purchased in the future only on bids.

THE SCENES OF HIS BOYHOOD — David E. "Dad" Brackett, who will be 93 years old on May 17, paints a scene from his boyhood — the old Brackett home at Bellvue in Eaton county, Mich. His father was the Hon. M. S. Brackett, an attorney and civil engineer closely identified with the early history of the state. "Dad" Brackett is the father of Harry Brackett, and grandfather of Bruce Brackett, Escanaba business men. (Daily Press Photo)

Painting At 93 Is Hobby Of D. E. "Dad" Brackett

If you are crowding age 93 and would like a hobby to pursue in your spare time, you might try painting.

David E. "Dad" Brackett of 215 Ogden avenue recommends it highly. He began with water colors about four months ago and is now ready to go on to oils, a medium that intrigues him because you can scrape off the paint and start all over again if you want to.

"Now water colors," he observed, shaking his head, "are different. Once on, the colors stay, and you can't do much about it."

Had No Art Training
Without formal art training of any kind, "Dad" Brackett's water colors show a fine conception of form, a deft handling of color, and an earnest desire to present a detailed and complete subject.

There is no note of faddism, cubism, impressionism or surrealism. A house is a house and he tries to make it look like one.

"The boards on a house go in straight lines," he explained. "But some of the modern paintings I've seen show the boards going every which way."

Right now "Dad" Brackett is busy painting two views of the old Brackett home at Bellvue, Eaton county, where he was born May 17, 1858. The paintings are being done from memory—and he left home 70 years ago.

Paints Boyhood Scenes
Taking shape on paper is the remembered two-story white house, surrounded by gravelled walks, since there was no concrete in those days. Back of the house is the carriage barn, the garden, and a raspberry patch that he vividly recalls from the pleasures of boyhood.

"You see that barn," he pointed to the painting, "that's where I would bring the horses out in front of a Sunday to curry them up. There was a church down the street and the folks going past would stare at me for working on Sunday."

"But I love horses," he said.

Many Inspirations
It is not surprising, therefore, that his first painting is of a fine white horse, neck arched spiritedly, standing in a flowery meadow.

Now he is looking forward to summertime and the opportunity to get outside with his painting. There is a rose trellis in the back yard that will be glowing with flowers this coming summer and he expects to make a painting of it. Perhaps by that time he will be using oils.

One thing that has pleased "Dad" Brackett with painting is that it requires so much concentration. If he has any aches or pains—his foot has been bothering him lately—he can paint and forget all about them.

that went into the stepping block. He even had colored stones mixed in with the gravel in the walks.

Schedule Soil Saving Hearing

Ask Farmers Attend Meeting Friday

Farmers of Delta county will attend a hearing at Escanaba city hall at 2 p. m. Friday, April 14, to support the proposed establishment of a Delta county soil conservation district.

If the state soil conservation committee agrees, the farmers will then be asked to vote on the establishment of the Delta county soil conservation district. The hearing on Friday at the city hall is important and all farmers are expected to attend, said J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

The state soil conservation committee members who will be in Escanaba Friday for the hearing are as follows:

Charles Figy, chairman, director of the state department of agriculture, Lansing.

E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

R. Lester Hill, director, Tuscola Soil Conservation District.

Air Force Buddies Hold Reunion Here

A reunion of three Air Force buddies who were in training in this country and in service in Germany together throughout the war was held last night at the Ralph C. Shiner home, 428 South 9th St. Lloyd Hitching and Louis McDonald, both of Port Huron, flying their own Cessna plane, landed at the Escanaba airport yesterday afternoon for a short visit with Clarence Shiner. They remained here over night and continued on their way to Duluth this morning. The reunion of the three former Air Force men was their first since they were separated from the service.

Bridge Measure Not Democrats'

Woodfill Sets GOP Committee Right

LANSING—(P)—The Republican policy committee was told yesterday that a proposal for a Mackinac Straits bridge authority is not a Democratic brainchild.

W. S. Woodfill of Mackinac Island, chairman of the Straits bridge authority citizens committee, went before the committee to "educate"—as one member put it—the committee against the theory that the plan was Governor Williams' and therefore should be opposed by all loyal Republican legislators.

Earlier, Senator William A. Elsworth (R-St. Ignace) said that the bill (Senate Bill 8) was drafted by private attorneys at the request of the citizens' committee, not by Williams' aides.

The committee made no decision as to whether it would support the bridge authority bill.

Cancel Meeting Of School Boards At Marquette Saturday

C. Gust Peterson of Escanaba, vice president of the Michigan Association of School Boards, today announced that bad road conditions following today's storm makes it necessary to cancel the Association meeting scheduled for Saturday, April 15, at Marquette.

No date has been set for the meeting in the future. The workshop conference at Marquette was expected to attract several hundred school board members and superintendents from all sections of the state.

County Tax Allocation Board Faces An Impossible Problem

THE county tax allocation board will have to possess the wisdom of a Solomon if it will succeed in whacking up the 15 mill property tax to the satisfaction of local governmental units that share in the receipts.

Last year the schools received seven mills and the county received eight mills. The county road commission, hard pressed for funds to maintain the county road system, has sought a share of the mill tax this year and the board of supervisors has recommended that two mills be allocated for county roads.

The schools, confronted with rising costs, will not only oppose a reduction in the millage allocated to them but will seek an even greater percentage than last year. The county would like more than seven mills to meet the normal operating expenses, plus the increased cost of social welfare.

President Wise To Let Bygones Be Bygones

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is making a determined effort to get the bi-partisan foreign policy back in working order. His appointment of John Foster Dulles to be special adviser is now proof.

Earlier, of course, the president selected John Sherman Cooper, former Republican senator from Kentucky for a similar role.

But the Dulles appointment means more. Before Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named Dulles to a senate vacancy last year, the GOP foreign affairs specialist had been a United Nations delegate operating closely with the administration.

Mr. Truman, irked by Dulles' criticism of his domestic program made during the New Yorker's election bid last fall, worked hard to defeat him and succeeded. It was thought in many quarters that Dulles would never again put his experience to use while Mr. Truman remained in the White House.

That his talents and wisdom in this field have indeed been called upon once more is a healthy sign. Sharp party division on foreign issues could be ruinous.

"Breakfast Club" Good Innovation For C-C

THE monthly "breakfast club" meetings of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, introduced this week, should serve a useful purpose for the community and for the chamber.

The breakfast meetings provide an opportunity for members to meet informally, discuss community problems and to stimulate the chamber's program. The meetings also enable newcomers to the community and new members of the chamber to get acquainted with the chamber and its activities.

In the past the chamber held one or two general meetings each year and, of course, the committees met regularly, but the "breakfast club" meetings open to the membership at large should help to stimulate the chamber members and their enthusiasm for civic affairs.

The breakfast meeting once a month is a particularly good innovation because it does not demand more evening time of members who are already overburdened with night meetings.

Copper Import Duty Should Be Restored

CONGRESS failed to enact legislation which would have permitted continued operation of some of the high cost copper mines of the Upper Peninsula, but there is still hope that some closed mines will reopen if the 2c a pound import duty on copper is restored on July 1.

Congressman John Bennett of the 12th district, who sought unsuccessfully to get congressional authorization for a copper subsidy to keep Michigan mines operating, has announced vigorous opposition to a bill now pending to continue a war-time order suspending the copper import duty. Without congressional action, the suspension will automatically expire June 30. Higher prices for copper, which would result if the import duty is restored, would make possible the reopening of some of the closed mines in the Upper Peninsula.

Copper is an extremely important strategic metal, essential for national defense. It is priceless in time of war. In recognition of that fact, it is senseless to permit our copper mines to close, fill with water and become a wasted natural resource. The least we can do is to protect our copper mines from ruinous foreign competition.

You can always tab a winner in the business world today, for he's not afraid to do a job the unaccepted way. He's the guy who always keeps abreast the ever-changing scene, and he welcomes newer methods which depart from old routine. Yet there's quite a few in business who are often heard to vow: "We have always done it this way and we oughtn't change it now."

Such a man begins his epitaph and ceases soon to grow, just because he thinks the world has got to stay in status quo. And his horse-and-buggy falls behind the swiftly-paced parade, when he fails to realize there has to be some changes made. Still he sticks to long out-moded ways and wipes his weary brow—he has always done it just that way and oughtn't change it now.

Comes the time the paint is fading and his plant is falling down, and no longer does he represent the spirit of the town. Then the business graveyard gets another tomb for which to care, with a monument inscribed to everlasting despair: "Here reposes one who dared commit the worst of modern crimes—he could not adapt himself to meet the ever-changing times."

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—No matter which side of the McCarthy-state department dispute you are on, it's important to know some of the factors behind the energetic senator from Wisconsin. Supported by a conglomeration of backstage interests, including one or two government figures, here is a roll call of the men who are giving him ammunition:

1. The Kuomintang Lobby—It has millions to spend, once hired Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, includes the powerful brothers-in-law of Chiang Kai-shek, Dr. H. H. Kung and T. V. Soong. More about this lobby later.

2. William J. Goodwin—A former Coughlinite and Christian Frontier, he is paid $25,000 annually by the Kuomintang lobby, wines and dines congressmen, deluges editors with propaganda on China.

3. Ex-Congressman Kersten of Wisconsin—Defeated for re-election, Kersten is McCarthy's chief backstage sleuth. For a time he occupied Room 316 in the Congressional hotel where he placed so many phone calls it attracted the attention of hotel employees. The hotel bills were paid not by Kersten, but by McCarthy.

NEWSPAPER FRIENDS

4. Newspaper Chains—Two newsmen formerly with big chain papers are attached to McCarthy to write speeches and statements. That's why his statements make good news copy, usually hit the headlines. One newsmen is George Watters, formerly with the Chicago Tribune group. The Scripps-Howard chain also give their blessing. None of these men appear on McCarthy's senate payroll, nor do the four ex-FBI men he once hired. So someone else must be footing the bill.

5. Alfred Kohlberg—Big importer of lace hankies, does a business of $1,500,000 a year with China, and admits he finances his American China Policy association—a pressure association—partly out of that business. Kohlberg is close to the Kuomintang lobby, hates Owen Lattimore and believes anyone not a rabble-rousing anti-Red is automatically a Communist.

6. Old-Line Career Diplomats—Most are loyal to Acheson. But one or two disgruntled extremists, sore at the new blood injected into the state department, have sent exaggerated reports to McCarthy.

CHINESE MONEY

Of these backstage McCarthy helpers, most powerful is the Kuomintang or Chiang Kai-shek lobby, financed by U. S. taxpayers' money supposed to have gone to China for relief. A treasury department survey of foreign funds two years ago indicated that about $200,000,000 of this money was now in the United States, but officials estimate it has doubled since then, due to the exit of Nationalist funds from China before the Communists took over.

This, maybe, explains part of McCarthy's financial backing.

Working in friendly cooperation with the Kuomintang lobby in this country have been ex-Ambassador William C. Bullitt, Gen. Clare Chennault, ex-Sen. Worth Clark of Idaho, Alfred Kohlberg, and Senator Bridges of New Hampshire and Knowland of California.

One of this lobby's neat byplays was sending ex-Senator Clark to China in 1948 to make a supposedly impartial survey and then recommend more U. S. money for Chiang.

Here are significant facts behind the byplay: Kohlberg gave a $1,000 campaign contribution to popular Sen. Styles Bridges, then chairman of the senate appropriations committee. Bridges appointed Clark to go to China and make an impartial survey.

"IMPARTIAL" SURVEY

Clark, however, was by no means impartial. He had been associated with Tom Corcoran, chief representative of Chiang's brother-in-law, T. V. Soong, and who was paid a fortune by the Kuomintang crowd. Clark took with him to China Eddie Lockett, formerly with Time magazine, now a publicity man. Part of their expenses was paid by the Chinese Nationalists, despite the fact that they were supposed to be working for the U. S. senate and American taxpayers.

Clark and Lockett came back, vigorously recommended more money for Chiang. Unfortunately, according to Gen. George Marshall and the state department white paper, much of this and other money sent to Chiang either went into private pockets or went in the form of material to the Chinese Communists. Communists did most of their fighting with U. S. munitions, sold them by Nationalist war lords. This is part of the group now cooking up Senator McCarthy.

Note—Money to Chiang might not have gone down the rathole if Chiang had followed General Marshall's earlier advice to bring opposing Chinese leaders into a coalition cabinet, or if the U. S. A. had sent a small army of military experts to virtually reorganize the Chinese army and make sure our munitions were not bought by the Communists. The latter course, however, was resented by Chiang and would have been a superhuman task.

ADD NEW WAR WORDS
(Scrapbook Item)

During the past ten years, new words by the hundreds have entered the American language. While most of these neologisms (a six-bit word meaning "a new word, usage, or expression") have come out of GI slang, many are so useful and expressive that they are certain of permanency in American idiom.

The American, unlike the Briton, has always been an ingenious coiner and borrower of words; his speech has never been hidebound by tradition, nor dictated by the proficiencies of pedagogues.

Who, but an American, for instance, would coin the term "fruit salad" to describe the rows of varicolored campaign ribbons which our returning servicemen pretend to be little, but of which they are fiercely, almost devoutly, proud?

Stirring Up the Red Paint Again

Streamlining County Government Needed To Meet Today's Problems

By ROBERT M. HALLETT

Staff Correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

NEW YORK—County governments were set up in the horse-and-buggy days, gauged to a size that would permit a person to drive old Dobbin to the county seat, conduct his business, and trot back home the same day.

In the day of the automobile and airplane this can all be done before lunch in many cases.

Changing times also have left the county structure way behind in the evolving pattern of government in this country.

3,050 Counties Listed
There are some 3,050 counties in the United States. Experts say the nation would be better off if there were only one-quarter of that number.

With few exceptions, counties are perhaps the most inefficient layers of government in the nation today. They have been the stepchild in the development of local, state, and national government.

Some small counties have not been able to keep the grass cut in front of the county courthouse or adequately maintain the courthouse itself.

Yet counties have an important role to play in American life. There are certain functions which they can perform better than any other governmental subdivision.

Public Apathetic
Experts feel that public health, welfare, education, and over-all assessments, should be in the hands of counties. A number of them already have taken over some or all of these services.

While students of government see the need for enlarging the role of county government, the public remains largely apathetic to the county which has been called the "dark continent of American politics."

The basic problem confronting many counties is the flight of city dwellers into suburban and rural areas for homes. When they move they demand the same type of services from county governments as they received within the city's bounds—thus putting pressure on the county for greater efficiency, more services, etc.

Montana Tackles Issue
In most cases, county governments are not equipped to meet this challenge. There are too many, and they are not big enough in size, population, and resources to perform services on an efficient basis.

In Montana, however, the state has set up means whereby counties with small resources and population may contract with each other for the use of personnel, equipment, and services.

At least a 30,000 to 35,000 population is needed for maximum service at minimum cost, according to experts. Seventy-five per cent of the counties in the nation fail to meet this standard.

Counties have not been efficient units from any standpoint—type of administration, size, resources, or population—according to Alfred Willoughby, executive secretary of the National Municipal League. At present many counties are "absolutely hopeless things," he said. They have a lot of separately elected officials each with his own mandate from the people—which is like trying to run a state without a governor.

Cluster of Officials
In its simplest rural form, the county is a cluster of elective officials related to a county court—judge, prosecutor, sheriff, clerk, treasurer, and a county board, each elected independent of the others and crudely regulated by a tangle of state laws and the board's power of appropriation.

The league believes the solution is to cut down the number of counties and to make them competent and efficient members of the governmental family. Almost all county reorganization proposals— from whatever source—involve the idea of a unified county executive.

The league recommends the county manager plan. Under it the county board would be elected at large and would appoint a county manager, a professional public administrator, who would be the central executive with power to direct, remove, and discipline county officials.

Useful Role Cited
"If counties became efficiently organized and capable of taking on large tasks," Mr. Willoughby said, "they would speedily become great rural municipalities, solving many of the social problems of country life and bringing to rural dwellers many of the benefits of modern science which cities give to their people and which will be increasingly demanded by country dwellers as urban populations continue to disperse."

Natural Unit
For many activities, the county is the natural unit. Mr. Willoughby said. The state is too big, too remote; the township and village too small.

"But the county, frequently comparable in population and in many of its problems to a city, could be a practicable working unit for real service of the kind the city man gets," he added.

There are three major reasons why reformers have difficulty changing present methods of county administration:

1. The selfish interest of municipal officials to keep control of certain functions they would otherwise lose to counties.

2. The apathy and unwillingness of good citizens to interest themselves in county government—which has had a bad reputation politically for a long time.

3. The resistance by political organizations. The county as it presently exists is the basis of state political party structure and politicians want it to remain that way.

Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.—Psalms 145:2.

Praise consists in the love of God, in wonder at the goodness of God, in recognition of the gifts of God, in seeing God in all things. NOT ALL BARK—A considerable number of hard words were exchanged at the recent two-day meeting of the Delta county board of supervisors. But we wish to report that, from all outward appearance, no bruises were suffered—or if they were received they healed quick.

For the supervisors departed from the overtime session with smiles, apparently convinced that each—in his own small way—had contributed something to the cause of better county government.

It is not our intention to argue that point one way or another. All we can report, after observing them in action for a couple days, is that they often do a lot of barking over a problem—but they occasionally take a big bite at it, too.

TWO VIEWPOINTS—There are 14 members of the board of supervisors from the townships. The remaining 13 members of the 27-man board are from the cities of Escanaba (9 supervisors) and Gladstone (4 supervisor members).

Inevitably there are differences of viewpoint, one urban, the other rural.

It would be illogical not to expect that. The township supervisors are directly elected by their friends and neighbors, while the men from the city are elected (or appointed by the elected city council or commission) by voters they seldom know personally.

The township supervisors are well acquainted with their constituents, for the supervisor is also the tax assessor in his bailiwick. In the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone the city assessor is appointed by the council or commission.

SCHOOLS VS. ROADS—One of the hottest topics for debate at the recent meeting of the supervisors was that of Roads vs. Schools.

The subject came on for discussion when a township supervisor advocated taking 2 mills of county tax and allocating it to the road commission for road purposes. It should be subtracted from the millage for schools, he said, because the schools do not need all the local tax money they receive, what with state aid and the sales tax redistribution, he said.

The proposal was extremely disturbing, because it upset the accustomed two-way (school and county) slice of the local tax pie. Another hungry boarder, the county roads, was being invited to sit at the table.

POINTING THE PROBLEM—But the proposal had this merit: It directed forceful attention to the financial plight of the county road commission.

Even if the Delta county tax allocation commission fails to give the county roads one red cent, the proposal to aid the road commission with county tax funds brings the problem sharply into focus.

There are few people who will deny the county roads are not in bad condition. Many of them are impassable at this time of spring breakup. Basic and costly improvements must be made if the roads are to be any better.

A breakdown in local roads means a breakdown in local transportation.

The problem is debatable only in the method of financing the road improvements. At the state level the problem is being kicked around in Lansing.

Locally the Delta county board of supervisors (at least the majority of its members) believe the road situation is too precarious to further delay steps toward additional financing.

They have barked about the problem for a long time. Now they have taken a bite at it—and the majority of the supervisors feel that the bite into the millage usually allocated to the schools is justified.

Rotten Politics In Kansas City

Binaggio Murder Brings It Out

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The gang murder of Charles Binaggio and his bodyguard in Kansas City is like a sudden and evil emanation against a dark and ominous sky. It is a sign for the whole world to see that gangsterism still prevails in Pendergast politics in President Truman's own bailiwick.

CHILDS

The murder on Truman road will haunt the party in the coming campaign. It cannot be shrugged off. Binaggio was, after all, the intimate not merely of local politicians, including Democratic Governor Forrest Smith, but of national leaders in the Truman organization.

Our political morality is in a downward spiral that would seem to be plummeting to zero. The machine gun and the smear are supplanting the orderly and reasonable discussion of issues and men.

Trouble In Pennsylvania

In Pennsylvania the Republicans are in the middle of a party quarrel that has fallen almost to the Pendergast level. No further charges of graft, crime and corruption are flying like big, thick, wet mud pies.

Governor James Duff is fighting it out with the powerful machine bosses led by the venerable former Senator Joseph R. Grundy. Duff is campaigning for the Republican nomination for Senator against Congressman John C. Kunkel who is Grundy's man. The seat is now held by Senator Francis J. Myers, Democratic whip of the Senate.

Kunkel in a recent speech charged Duff with "having made the most brazen political deal in Pennsylvania history—a bargain to hand control of the state government over to political corruptionists in return for their financial support and their controlled votes." That is strong language in the state that has produced some pretty high-flying corruptionists.

But Kunkel went on in a state-wide broadcast initiating his campaign to accuse Duff of "joining hands" with corrupt county bosses, a railroad lobby and a whiskey lobby. Just to round things out, he accused Duff's candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, Judge John Fine, with being a "political judge who in flagrant defiance of ethics and decency has been the boss of Luzerne county, which has the most corrupt political machine to be found in Pennsylvania."

Governor Duff replied with a heated denial and the charge that "important men in the Grundy organization" were "guilty of corruption. He went on with some choice language about his opponent."

"Kunkel is not smart enough to have made these clever distortions himself. A slow-witted, spoiled rich boy who never grew up to be a real man, Kunkel is merely the Charlie McCarthy for the venom of Owlett (Republican National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett), one of the most unscrupulous men in the Republican party in high place, either in or out of Pennsylvania."

Stassen In Middle

Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, is somewhere in the middle of this brawl, vaguely aligned with the Grundy faction and Jay Cooke, who has the Grundy-Owlett backing for the governorship. It is a fast, rough league for Harold to be travelling with. Whether he comes out unscathed in a relatively neutral position is anybody's guess.

All this pleases the Democratic politicians who have in recent years been hard at work exposing Republican chicanery in Philadelphia. Partly as a result of these exposures the Democrats showed remarkable strength last fall, with Richardson Dilworth, a reform Democrat, was elected treasurer of the city. Dilworth is expected to be the Democratic candidate for governor.

Will Disgust Voters

Exposure is one thing. But a kind of pot-and-kettle name-calling is something else again. The net effect of that is to disgust voters who have no very close ties with either party.

A Senate investigation of organized national crime syndicates, such as Senator Estes Kefauver has been working hard for, might help to clear up the ugly mess. That is, it would help if it could be kept clear of political controls and oversensationalism. Mere headline hunting will contribute nothing but further confusion and disgust.

Those who inveigh most loudly and indignantly against the intervention of the federal government into the affairs of the states are more often than not precisely those who demand that the FBI be sent in to restore law enforcement.

The federal government can provide some assistance. It can break the networks that extend across state lines. But it cannot restore morality and decency to local politics.

Severe Electrical Storm At Cornell

CORNELL—Services was disrupted and fire started by lightning in one home during Monday evening's severe electrical storm at Cornell. The Lundgaard store was without lights, telephone or motor service when the fuses blew. At the Rene Terrian home lightning blew out fuses, burned out the radio and curtains near the radio caught fire. The blaze was quickly extinguished. The school furnace also was put out of commission and children had an extra day of vacation Tuesday.

Boeing Builds First Turbine Truck Engine

SEATTLE.—(P)—The Boeing Airplane company announced it has produced the "world's first turbine engine for trucks," weighing only one-fourteenth as much as a diesel motor producing the same power.

The mighty midjet, which generates 175 horsepower, tops the beam at 200 pounds. It has been road-tested in a 10-ton freight truck for the past several months on mountainous roads in this vicinity.

The Boeing engine, being developed for the U. S. Navy bureau of ships, is similar to the jet airplane engine in general design, officials say. The power is harnessed by a secondary turbine, however, to turn a shaft rather than being exhausted as jet thrust. The truck is considerably quieter, Boeing engineers said, than a conventional diesel truck engine. Exhaust gases, about which much worry has been expressed, are approximately the same temperature as those from a diesel or gasoline truck.

The engine runs equally well on gasoline, kerosene, light or heavy fuel oil, and has been test run on "bottled" gas. Engineers said the motor reduced gear shifting to a minimum. It starts immediately and develops full engine power without any warm-up period. The engine cannot be stalled.

One problem yet to be overcome, is fuel consumption, a Boeing engineer said. The turbine uses twice as much diesel fuel and three times as much gas as present engines. He said he felt consumption could be reduced to the same amount or less than engines now in use.

Stockpiling May Cause Slump In Mining At Close

ST. LOUIS — Stockpiling domestic metals under the present postwar program may result in a serious decline in the mining industry at a later date, the American Zinc Institute was told here today by Dr. James Boyd, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

"It is well to remember that stockpile procurement must come from productive capacity in excess of current industrial requirements," he said. "Consequently the termination of stockpile acquisition is bound to leave idle productive capacity, unless it can be timed to bridge the gap between past peaks and growing commercial demand."

"It is unlikely that such a favorable coincidence will occur," he continued. "Consequently I feel that the mining industry must be prepared for a period of retrenchment when stockpiling ceases."

The stockpile must provide an ample available supply of strategic materials for national security, and it is evident that an effective stockpile must be well balanced at all times, he stated. It is undesirable that there be an excess supply of one metal to the detriment of others.

Minor Admits House Thefts

Youth, 16, Implicates His Companion

The arrest of two 16-year-old boys has solved a series of house burglaries in Escanaba, local police reported this morning.

The two minors were picked up by local police on suspicion last night and one of them readily confessed participation in 10 breaking and entering cases. He implicated his partner, but the second boy has denied that he was involved.

The residences that one of the boys has admitted entering are the following: C. J. Kurzinski, 419 South 15th street; Clyde McKenzie, 114 South 24th street; R. E. Allingham, 512 South 19th street; Mrs. Wm. LaCrosse, 317 North 18th street; James Andrews Mill, North Escanaba; Henry Leisner, 1825 Ludington; Art Kubley, 1112 First avenue north; Jack Nimzinsky, 225 North 14th street; Earl Owen, 1411 Third avenue south; and Al Provencher, 501 South 11th street (twice).

Two or three house entering cases are not included in the youth's confession but police are continuing their investigation. The home of Roy Olson, 503 South 12th street, was reported entered early last evening, but nothing was taken.

Skeleton keys were found in the youngster's possession. Both boys have been involved in petty crimes here in the past and one of them is on probation from a reformation.

Shift In Marquette Prison Staff May Involve New Warden

LANSING—(P)—A three-way shift of top personnel of the state corrections department which would involve a new warden at the Marquette branch prison is under consideration.

Corrections Commissioner Earnest C. Brooks reported that some type of shift has been debated for more than a year.

The present proposal, Brooks said, is to move Ralph E. Benson, the deputy warden of the state prison of Southern Michigan, to the state parole board, move Warden Emory E. Jacques of the Marquette prison to Benson's job and transfer A. Ross Pascoe from the parole board to the warden-ship at Marquette.

Brooks said that he planned to discuss the proposal with the state civil service commission soon. He said Jacques was opposed to the transfer and that he did not know whether civil service would permit it.

Nation Prosperous, And Truman Will Take Credit For It

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman said today the United States is more prosperous than in any postwar period in its history. He said he intends to take credit for it.

He said, too, there has been a gradual improvement in the world wide situation since 1946 which he described as the worst period since the last war ended.

In his first White House news conference in more than a month, Mr. Truman also:

1—Questioned whether it is possible to libel Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) who has charged that the state department is a haven for Communists. Mr. Truman was commenting on a statement

Truman Doubts He Can Libel Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON—(P)—In a new blast at Senator McCarthy, President Truman today questioned whether it is possible to libel the Wisconsin Republican.

Mr. Truman's remarks came at a news conference when he was asked about a recent statement by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft had said the president libeled McCarthy by cracking at Key West, Fla., recently that McCarthy was the Kremlin's biggest asset in the United States.

"Do you think that's possible?" Mr. Truman fired back at his questioner.

And he said it was all right to use direct quotations.

Mr. Truman went on to say he hadn't read all that Taft had said; that he doesn't read all the political columns of all the people running for re-election.

Taft made his statement about Mr. Truman, McCarthy and libel in a column he distributes to Ohio newspapers.

Taft is up for re-election this year, Mr. Truman noted. He added that he thinks the Ohio senator is interested in something else a couple of years from now.

The Ohio senator is frequently mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate in 1952.

Sentence Four To Probation Terms

Judge Glenn W. Jackson in circuit court today sentenced four criminal respondents to probation terms following their pleas of guilty entered earlier in the term.

They are:

Albert Marohonic, 17, of Gladstone, four years probation for unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Henry Lavigne, 43, of Gladstone, one year probation for disorderly conduct, third offense.

Ed Myrvall, 47, of Bark River, for check forgery, four years probation and payment of restitution in the amount of $25 to Charles LaFave of Wilson.

James Ross, 22, of Munising, four years probation and restitution payment of $108.72 to Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone for breaking and entering the Norstrom garage.

Three Baby Skeletons Found In Fireplace Of Baltimore Home

BALTIMORE—(P)—The skeletons of three babies apparently dead for more than 25 years were discovered last night in the boarded up fireplace of a home here.

Mrs. Marie Plage dropped her ring through a crack in the mantle. To get to it, she ripped up a piece of loose tin and uncovered a bundle of cloth.

She unwrapped the cloth and saw the skeleton of a small baby. She jumped back, screaming. Her uncle, Fred Scheidegger, summoned police. Officers probed into the opening and removed two other small skeletons.

One of them was wrapped in a paper dated Sept. 18, 1921, and the other in a paper dated Jan. 27, 1923.

Mrs. Plage told police she had lived in the house about a year.

Detroit Woman Held In $65,000 Swindles Has Only $1.94 Left

DETROIT—(P)—Authorities investigated today a confidence woman's story she had only $1.94 left out of more than $60,000 she allegedly swindled from Detroit women in fake real estate deals.

Prosecutor Gerald C. O'Brien identified her as Mrs. Minnie Spears, 58. She surrendered yesterday on a charge of larceny by trick. O'Brien said she had served three prison terms for fraud since 1932.

The woman admitted taking money to invest in fake real estate deals, O'Brien said, but she claimed the sum never amounted to more than $25,000.

O'Brien said Mrs. Spears declared she spent most of the money repaying persons she had promised good interest on their investments.

by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that the president had libeled McCarthy by describing him as the greatest asset the Kremlin has in this country. "Do you think that's possible," Mr. Truman asked.

2—Said he had ordered federal grand jury action against crime rackets on a nationwide scale.

3—Listed the Brannan plan as the answer to the farm surplus problem. He said this is not a political issue since it would benefit all farmers.

The president's discussion of the economic situation was set off by a question whether the first five years as president are hardest.

Mr. Truman observed his fifth anniversary in office yesterday.

The president agreed the first five years had been rather difficult, but that the country is still on its feet.

He said more people are at work than in any other country, despite the fact there is some unemployment. The country has a prosperous setup, he continued, if Wall Street reports can be believed.

Farmers are better off than ever before except the top point of 1948, he said, adding he can't see anything serious the matter with the country as a whole.

The president referred to the Brannan plan when a reporter from the potato growing state of Maine suggested that surpluses are endangering farm prosperity.

Mr. Truman said that the principal surplus—potatoes—was brought about by Maine's senators.

He added it was natural for Taft to say what he did because he is running for reelection in Ohio. He asserted Taft also has something else in mind a couple of years from now, apparently to a possibility that Taft seeking the presidential nomination again.

His comment on nationwide crime was in response to a question about the slaying of Charles Binagogy, northside Democratic leader in Kansas City.

Asked about the latest Gallup poll showing his popularity on the downward trend, Mr. Truman asked reporters to read the 1948 pre-election Gallup poll and remarked the latest one is about on the same par.

Judge Jackson To Receive Check-Up On Heart Ailment

Waiting an appointment to enter a clinic at Rochester, Minn., Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone, today said in Escanaba where he is presiding at the April term of Delta county circuit court that he does not think a recent heart condition is "too serious."

He will leave for Rochester when he is notified of his appointment date. While there he will also receive a general physical check-up.

The heart condition developed after he slipped and sprained his right leg Feb. 15 while in Menominee for the court term there.

"While the injured leg was treated an incident occurred that caused a coronary occlusion," Judge Jackson explained. "My general health is good, however, and I do not think the condition is too serious."

Judge Jackson today sentenced four criminal respondents in the closing session of the court term for Delta county. Several cases have been continued for hearing.

Lone Wolf Republican Makes Peace Offer In State Road Tax Scrap

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

LANSING—(P)—Governor Williams today was gingerly examining a peace offer made by a lone wolf Republican legislator in the row over finding more money for roads.

At the same time, Attorney General Stephen J. Roth ruled that the state may issue revenue bonds for highway construction with a popular vote.

And a bill was introduced to let counties raise more money for roads by local taxation.

Rep. Wade Van Valkenberg (R-Kalamazoo) suggested that a compromise might be found in levying a corporation tax on truckers based on the weight of loads and the mileage traveled.

Frank H. Rickerd, McMillan Resident Many Years, Dies

McMILLAN—Frank H. Rickerd, 77, widely known resident of McMillan, died in Tahquamenon General hospital at Newberry Friday following a several days' illness.

He was born May 4, 1872, in Ashland county, Ohio, and had lived in McMillan for 45 years. In 1917 he took up farming four miles west of McMillan and made his home there since that year.

He was a devout member of the Methodist church and was active in civic projects.

Survivors are his widow, one son, Alton of Sault Ste. Marie; two daughters, Beulah Goehner of Englewood, Colo.; and Cora Shady of Romeo, Mich.; 14 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 at the McMillan Methodist church with the Rev. John F. Brodie officiating.

Palbearers were Albert J. Mainville, Harry J. Skinner, George Roat, Samuel Simmerman, Charles Kubert and Chester Feathers. The body was returned to Newberry and placed in the mausoleum until later in the spring when burial will be in the McMillan cemetery.

Judge Jackson today sentenced four criminal respondents in the closing session of the court term for Delta county. Several cases have been continued for hearing.

The Republican controlled legislature has refused to accept the governor's proposal for a general corporation profits tax and making $18,680,000 available from the general fund for roads.

Williams has turned down legislative pleas that he open the subject of higher gasoline and auto license taxes for legislative action.

As an alternative to his compromise committee, Van Valkenberg suggested that the governor permit the consideration of higher highway taxes. He could then either veto what was passed or permit the bill to become law without his signature.

This, Van Valkenberg argued, would put the question before the voters at the general November election, permitting them to vote for the party whose philosophy pleased them most.

For his compromise committee, he suggested three members from the House, three from the Senate, two from the executive office, two "public spirited citizens," and one each from the good roads federation and the Michigan state bar.

Williams contended the proposal was not really a peace offer. "I am interested in any compromise that the legislature wants that doesn't involve new consumer taxes," he said. "Any reasonable and sensible program they have that doesn't involve consumer taxes, I would be glad to listen to."

Balking at the make-up of the compromise committee, Williams said, "I'll send my people in on an even basis, if they will start with the basis that I'll not consider more consumer taxes."

Following the business meeting Mrs. A. M. Gilbert, chairman of the Delta county unit of the American Cancer society, gave an interesting talk stressing the importance of early diagnosis of cancer. She was introduced by Mrs. Dorothy Boyle, R. N., school nurse. The talk was followed by an open discussion on the subject and a film, "The Doctor Speaks His Mind," which is sponsored by the society, was shown. Mrs. Sargent volunteered to act as chairman of Nahma township for the Delta county unit.

A short social hour of cards followed with Mrs. Leo Cousineau high in 500, and Ira Hanson, high in cribbage. Lunch was served in the school dining hall by Mrs. James Krutina, Mrs. William Juneau, Mrs. Vial Hebert, Mrs. John Clark and Mrs. Kenneth Lavigne.

The lunch committee for May will be announced later.

Snoopers May Get Snooped

Hollywood Could Annoy Congress

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK.—We are just a little at loss to figure out how Judge Stephen S. Jackson, the organ-snooper just appointed by the Senate Commerce committee to dig up all the purple facts on adult delinquency in Hollywood will set about his peering, and prying.

The common question is obviously out, since people are not even forced by law to offer evidence that will tend to incriminate them, and all sinners are notoriously close-mouthed about the sins of others in the face of purity purges. So little serious sinning is performed publicly that the dramatic unfolding of the Ingrid Bergman amour was rather exceptional and is not apt to be repeated any time soon.

There will not be enough time on the calendar for the good judge to personally peep over enough transoms or through sufficient keyholes to come back with the goods on enough top-draw sinners to make the trip worthwhile. As any private dick can tell you, snooping is a dull and dreary business, which pays off in great boredom and an occasional punch in the snout.

May Snoop On Congress
Another thing is that snoopers often get snooped on, in retribution, and if the movies industry gets sore enough to snoop right back at Congress and other government bodies, there could be some embarrassed law makers at Sen. Ed Johnson's hearing to abolish desire under the orange trees.

Just for a start, I could list you two congressmen. One was called "old garter snapper" by the press, who never visited him in his office except in pairs, for mutual protection. The other was an August Senator with a rare case of limp wrist, as it is called in the state department these days, and the he-reporters never called on him except in numbers. And I do believe that the venerable Andy May is still in jail for stealing from his country in wartime, a sin of a sort.

While I do not come out for people who inflict illegitimate children on the world, there is still some doubt as to whether Signor Rossellini sired the Bergman baby as a publicity device to sell a bad picture, as Sen. Johnson has intimated in his impassioned orations against sin among the stars. This seems rather a heavy-handed method of movie exploitation and comprises a considerable slur on the beauty of Miss Bergman, an actress of sufficient skill at her work to scrape by without producing babies to accent her latest productions.

Not Much Experience
It may be that I underestimate the prowling prowess of the good judge-investigator but his record against the devil to date comprises a crackdown on some dirty magazines, at LaGuardia's behest, and a clearcut victory against strip-teasing. He said he went to the show three times, and Lawdy, the way that gal shook was a caution. He is up against tougher game in Hollywood, where people are often wicked behind barred gates or far at sea in yachts.

The main trouble with a general casting out of devils in any vicinity is that the majority of people feel short sympathy for the callous crusader, since most everybody has a few teeny transgressions he wouldn't like aired. So, when the sin-chasers begin to squawk and wave their arms, the sympathy is apt to switch from the righteous to the stoned, often with awkward effect. Miss Bergman was not the first lady whose heart got entangled with her judgement, nor is she the first female to present posterity with an unsanctioned child. Our own dear GI-lads left a few score thousand of woods-colts to keep the Bergman baby company in Italy. I mean, Bergman hasn't got a copyright on her peculiar brand of transgression.

Apart from a question of right or wrong, Congress seems awful dumb to get mixed up in such a completely fruitless witch-hunt, just for headlines in election year, when the McCarthy hearings have to date produced little but doubt and cheap sensation. That army of pervers in the state dept. argues a little more loud evil, it seems to me, than Bergman's baby, Hayworth's prince or Miss Jane Russell's blouse-size.

Fatal Free Meals For Deer Stopped

THOMPSON FALLS, Mont.—Big game animals aren't getting any more free meals from the railroads, but it's for their own good.

Railroads agreed to quit dumping garbage in this area because the food attracted deer and elk to the tracks where several hundred have been killed by locomotives.

Tree Planting Is Under Way

National Forests Being Restocked

Spring planting operations now under way on the national forests of the north central region of the U. S. Forest Service will bring to nearly 15,000 acres the area planted during the fiscal year 1950.

According to Herbert E. Ochser, chief of the regional division of timber management at Milwaukee, about 11,000 acres have been or will be planted in Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, mostly to red pine, jackpine, and white spruce. The remaining 4,000 acres have been planted in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, where the planting season begins in late February or early March. Shortleaf pine is the predominant species planted in the Central States forests.

In the northern forest about 950 trees are planted per acre, and in the southern forests about 600 per acre. Planting machines are used on open areas large enough to make machine planting more economical than hand planting. Fifteen machines of different types are used in this region, since no single make of machine is satisfactory under all conditions. One machine, operated by two men, can plant 8 to 10 acres a day. On areas that must be hand planted, one man can plant from one-half to two-thirds of an acre a day.

The 13 million seedlings needed for this year's planting were produced in five Forest Service nurseries. Those planted in the northern forests are nursery-grown from 2 to 4 years, while those planted on the southern forests are only 1 year old at the time of field planting.

Up to the current year 677,649 acres of plantations have been established on denuded and understocked land within the national forests in this region.

Mexico's Age Set Back 3000 Years

BERKELEY, Calif.—(AP)—Intensive cultivation of Mexican soil was started 3,000 to 5,000 years ago, says Dr. Sherburne F. Cook of the University of California. Most experts have placed the time at about 2,000 years ago.

Basing his estimates on soil conditions, he says Mexico's ancient population was so big and the soil so cultivated that much of the land was near ruin long before the white man arrived.

You Learn Lots Of Things Living In A New House

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK—(AP)—There is a kind of round-robin, self-multiplying lunacy about living in a new house in a neighborhood of other new houses.

Knowing nothing about such things, we moved into one across the river in New Jersey. Like our neighbors, we came from big city apartments. Now we would live! So we men rushed out and bought expensive tools and work benches. Why, I don't know. Maybe it's because in our apartments we never did anything more than install a light bulb. Now, we would prove we were resourceful. Fix or build anything.

So far, not much has happened. Harry, who lives across the street, did fix the axle on his daughter's doll buggy. Used a little wire, but no tools. I christened my new bit by installing a clothesline for my wife.

Blame The Settling

Most of the men on the street intend to finish off their basements. But this work is at a standstill, too. I started mine and then had to rip up a whole wall because the water cut off valve was covered up. That made everybody on the block go slowly.

Harry, whose brother-in-law, I think, is an engineer, talks a better game than the rest of us. He blames everything on the house settling. Cracks in the wall, doors that don't fit, stairs which creak—it's all settling, says Harry.

Harry can also be annoying. The other night he came over and said: "What're you going to do about the hardware on the windows."

"Nothing, why?"

"That push-out gadget, I understand, wears quickly. I'm going to change them all for the roller type."

"Oh," I said, and worried about it the rest of the night.

Another time, he came in and said: "What're you going to do about your doors?"

"Nothing. They're all new, aren't yours?"

"Yeah, but did you notice the tiny hairline cracks. Water gets in those and the door's warped. Presto, you need a new door. I'm going to sand mine down and varnish them a couple of times."

Floors Take Dip
That night I worried about the doors.

Next day, I toured Harry's living room.

"Say," I said, "Notice that little dip in the floor near the wall." It was a very, very slight dip. Matter of fact, we had to get down on our knees and roll a marble to prove it to Harry. Still, he kept his poise.

"Just settling," he said. "Fellow I know says it could mean the main beams need shorting up."

"Nonsense. It's just settling." It was six hours later, past midnight, when Harry came knocking on my door, sheepishly.

"What do you think I ought to do about that floor dip?"

Bennett, chief photographer of the State Department, Washington, D. C. Bennett served as the OWI chief of the war picture pool in London during World War II.

Silver Jubilee
Of Sister Agatha
Observed Yesterday

The silver jubilee of Sister M. Agatha of the Sisters of Notre Dame, a member of St. Joseph's school teaching staff since she entered the order, was fittingly observed yesterday.

The observance opened with a solemn high mass of Thanksgiving at St. Joseph's church with Father Patrick, O. F. M., celebrant, Father Michael, O. F. M., deacon, and Father Stephen, O. F. M., sub-deacon. The entire student body of the school attended the thanksgiving mass.

Last evening St. Joseph's Home and School Association served an anniversary dinner in honor of the jubilarian in the private dining room of St. Joseph's club rooms with all of the Sisters of the school as guests. The table appointments were in silver and white. Centering the table was a silver tree made by Mrs. Jacob Ammel, and white tapers in silver holders and silver favors completed the appointments. The favors were made by Mrs. Douglas Bennett and Mrs. Doris French.

Also gracing the table was the gift of the association to Sister Agatha presented in the form of an attractive treasure tree and treasure chest. The three, a silvered evergreen, was decorated by Mrs. Cliff Vadnais and she also made the silver chest.

Over 100 friends including many former pupils attended the public reception which followed the dinner. Among those who extended their congratulations were mothers who had been pupils of Sister Agatha and their children who now are in her class room. In this group were Mrs. John Loeffler and Elizabeth, Mrs. Ray DeGrand and Jeannie and Dorothy, Mrs. Robert Forton and Robert and Mrs. William Stern and William and Joseph.

Mothers and Children
The reception program included music by the Escanaba high school string ensemble, directed by Clara Karas Somers, and selections by the St. Joseph glee club, directed by Sister M. Cedella. The closing glee club number was a song written by Sister Cedella and dedicated to Sister Agatha's jubilee.

A short meeting of the Home and School association followed the reception and the evening closed with a buffet lunch served by senior class mothers. Mrs. Freda Derwin was chairman of the dinner committee and Mrs. Ernest Rudolph chairman of the buffet lunch.

Big Game Species Face Extinction

WASHINGTON—(P)—A number of species of big game are near extinction, says the National Geographic Society. In North America, the moose, caribou and grizzly bear are rare. The bison and sea otter grow in number, but there are few of them. The trumpeter swan, the whooping crane and the California Condor are rare birds.

The Alaskan brown bear is being killed off rapidly. Whales, making their last stand in the Antarctic, are declining in numbers.

The orang-outang of Borneo and Sumatra, India's one-horned rhinoceros, the Asiatic lion, the Arabian ostrich and the bush elephant also show declining numbers.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes shows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, diabetes or delay indications.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's Pills bring happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Paper Mill To Start
Tree Planting Project

A tree planting project is soon to be started on land owned by the Manistique Pulp & Paper company, south of Thompson, according to announcement by R. G. Hentschell, mill manager. The project is being sponsored by the Woodlands department of the Mead corporation, through its Michigan division mills at Manistique and Escanaba.

Norway pine, white and Norway spruce transplant stock have been selected for planting on approximately 25 acres of abandoned pasture lands adjacent to the Little Harbor road two miles south of Thompson. Planting will begin as soon as weather conditions permit. It is planned to have in use two types of mechanical planting machines in order to determine the merits of each.

The company's purpose in this case is to make a planting demonstration on open abandoned pasture land to show that such lands should be planted to trees rather than be allowed to remain as sub-marginal farmland with no resulting profit. Such lands are believed to be good sites necessary to the profitable planting of our future forests. This area, says Mr. Hentschell, is intended to become a part of the company's tree farm program which is sponsored jointly by the state department of conservation and the American Forest Products Industries, Inc.

There will be a number of outside foresters as well as company officials in attendance at the planting and it is the wish of the sponsors of the project that as many farmers and woodlot owners as possible also be present while the planting operations are on.

Hentschell states that this is a forerunner of what may be expected when the local nursery, under the direction of the Michigan Department of Conservation will get underway and when transplants will be available for such reforestation projects as these.

California Laws
Reported Illegal

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Most if not all California statutes passed in the past 40 years are against the law, says Dr. J. A. C. Grant of the University of California. The state constitution lays down intricate rules for passing laws which the legislature has not followed, he says.

The courts have ruled that bills signed by the proper officials are laws. But the fact remains that most of them have not been passed by the legislature in the manner the constitution provides, the professor insists.

Tuesday evening was "Men's Night" at a special meeting of Ida Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. A class of five, all men, was initiated into the order and the luncheon following the meeting was prepared and served by a committee composed entirely of men.

The entertainment, put on by members of the Past Matrons' Club, put the newly initiated members through paces that were high comedy for people on the sidelines, but far from it from those who were receiving the extra work. Grace LeRoy had charge of the activities, supported by Isabella Shaw and Ida Fowler, Mildred Taylor conducted the neophytes through their paces, leading them before stations presided over by Boda Hough, Helen Hall, Grace MacDonald, Nellie Raredon and Lillian Prine. George LeBrasseur Named Coach At Bark River-Harris Schools

Ex-Nahma Ace Succeeds DeBen

Starred In Sports At Western State

BARK RIVER — George LeBrasseur, 27, one of the finest athletes in the history of Nahma high school today was named athletic director and head coach at Bark River-Harris high school.

Announcement was made by Leslie Good, president of the board of education.

LeBrasseur, who will receive his degree this spring from Western Michigan college at Kalamazoo, will coach football, basketball and baseball. He also will teach social studies.

He succeeds Paul DeBen, coach for the last three years who now will be able to devote full time to teaching commercial subjects.

"We are very happy to have LeBrasseur as our athletic director and head coach," said Supt. Leo Brunelle.

"He is an excellent athlete and a fine, clean living boy. He is rated by Western Michigan officials as a top student and a fine teaching prospect."

Lauded By Coach

"LeBrasseur has an excellent philosophy of athletics and I know will be a fine influence on our boys."

LeBrasseur, a six-foot blond who weighs 185 pounds, was graduated from Nahma high school in 1941 after a spectacular record in basketball, track and baseball.

He entered Western Michigan in the fall of 1946, was a member of the freshman football team and varsity football team in his junior year but had to quit because of a recurring injury.

He went out for track in the shot, broad jump and javelin. He has earned three awards and now is competing his fourth year.

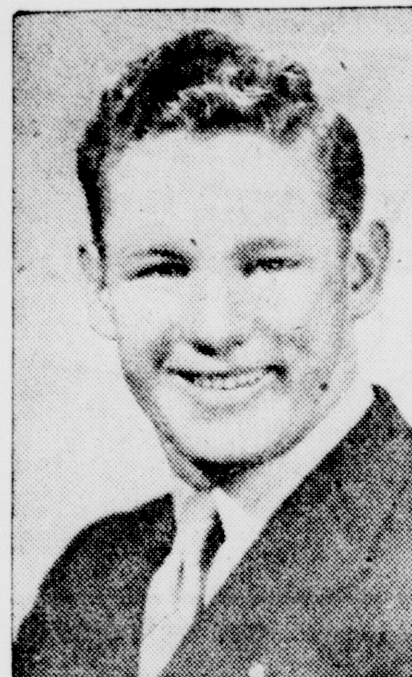

He is co-captain of the track team with Earl Borr of Holland. LeBrasseur was state collegiate champion in shot and javelin in 1949, winning four out of five meets in the 1949 indoor season.

He has been the shot 47 feet several times this year, has broad jumped 21 feet, nine inches and tossed the javelin 169 feet.

Said Clayton J. Maus, Western Michigan track coach:

"George also is a fine baseball player but went out for track instead."

"He is a great competitor and a credit to any team or college."

Rogovin Hurls Four Hitter

Tigers Beat Sox In Night Tilt, 4-3

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(P)—If this keeps up, the Detroit Tigers are going to start believing all the fine things being said about their front-line pitching staff.

On a crack, four-hit performance by Saul Rogovin, the Tigers won from the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3, last night in their first 1950 game under the lights.

On the day before Art Houtteman had turned on a slick job. Tonight the Tigers take on the Sox again at the Memphis Chick's park.

Rogovin mastered the White Sox and should have had a three-hitter. A fluke double helped Chicago tie the score at 3-3 in the ninth but his mates came back to win for him in their half.

The big right-hander was helped particularly by Eddie Lake, Joe Ginsberg, and Gerry Priddy, together collected seven of Detroit's ten hits. Saul struck out four men and walked four.

On the fourth inning, while George Kell took the day off, doubled Johnny Lipon home in the first inning and then scored on a single by Priddy and Pat Mullin's fly.

Mullin Triples
In the fourth Ginsberg rammed a single to right to send in Mullin after Pat had tripled.

The Tigers' winning run in the ninth was a gift. It was forced in on a bases-full walk, with Ginsberg scoring.

However, that only made up for the way in which Chicago got its tying run.

Cass Michaels, first up for the Sox in the ninth, got his second double when Vic Wertz and Groth let his fly ball fall safely.

An infield hit and a fly scored Michaels.

Ginsberg's double, Don Kolloway's scratch single, and Lipon's walk filled the bags for Detroit in the ninth with one out.

At that point Luis Aloma came in to pitch for Chicago, and Lake waited him out for a walk to force home Ginsberg.

The line scores:
Chicago A. 002 000 001—3 4 0

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

How brief is a "brief fling"?

Ray Crandall of the Iron River Reporter writes: "Sports Scribe Larson recently returned to the Escanaba Press after a brief fling on papers in lower Michigan and points south."

If nine years is a "brief fling," then that's what we had.

But, pal, nine years away from a town like Escanaba is anything but "brief." Seemed like an eternity.

Buck Erickson, sage of the Iron Mountain sports world, hasn't much more to live for.

"Buck Erickson of the Iron Mountain News best reflects the sentiments of U. P. fandom," writes Lee Remmel of the Green Bay Press Gazette in a story about the Upper Peninsula backing the Packers again because Gene (Tuffy) Ronzani, former Iron Mountain star, is coach.

In this case, we'll let Buckaroo "best reflect" our sentiments because we're delighted to see Ronzani at the Packers helm.

But, Buck, this is to serve notice that, this corner at least, reserves the right to reflect its own opinion on weighty matters in the future.

How about searing up a controversy, Buck?

Incidentally, would you like to own a football team? Or part of one?

The Packers are in the midst of their drive to raise money to keep their team on top this year.

Their slogan is "Back the Drive with Twenty-Five." In other words, for twenty-five samolians, you can own a share of the Green Bay Packers.

The 25 won't bring you any more because the rules say no dividends will be paid.

But that isn't a great price to pay for the privilege of boasting: "I own part of the Green Bay Packers."

Watty Spoelstra, a cracking good sports writer with whom we worked in Detroit, doesn't think much of Sparky Stalcup, Missouri's basketball coach.

Writing in his column in the Detroit News, Watty says Stalcup broke a definite verbal agreement with Michigan State to become basketball coach to succeed Al Kircher.

Spoelstra said Stalcup used the negotiations as a wedge to slug Missouri for more dough.

The Spartan cage job pays $7,500, says Watty.

Joe Rademacher, Escanaba's current hope in organized baseball, is in warmer climes.

At least, at last (how's that for alliteration?) report, he was headed for Madisonville, Ky., for spring training.

He'll be training with a three-team combine, Madisonville in the Class D Kitty league, Wisconsin Rapids in the class D Wisconsin state league, and Superior in the class C Northern league.

Joe, a right-hander, hopes this year he won't be plagued by a pulled muscle or broken foot which kayoed him two successive years.

Escanaba's pulling for you, Joe.

Silver Gloves In Big Windup

Leather Flies Fast At St. Joe Gym

The annual Elks-recreation department Silver Gloves tournament at St. Joe gym wound up last night in a storm of flying leather.

Padded fists flew in all directions—most of them whistling harmlessly through the ozone—as the youngsters put on another good show.

In the opener, Billy Redman defeated Wayne Cartwright. Randall Blixt tipped Gerald Dausay of Marinette.

Frank Katrinski defeated Jimmy Lacoursiere of Munising and Gary Martell of Munising beat Michael Goymerac.

Loren (Kid Chocolate) Jones won the "rubber match" in his third fight with Donald Provo.

Bob Hanson of Marinette defeated James Brown and Bob Bourdau won a decision over Duane Rice of Marinette.

Even Trade

Louis Berthiaume gave Escanaba another decision over Marinette in beating Richard Shafer but Floyd O'Claire got it back by defeating Clinton Delvo.

John Seymour of Munising outlasted Norman Plourde of Escanaba and in another "rubber match" Eddy Provo tripped Frank Bink.

Jo Wilson of Manistique trounced Escanaba's Dick Johnson and Jerri Brosky of Marinette defeated Jack Wilson of Manistique.

Jim Bourdau defeated Jerry Plourde and Wayne Berthiaume "took" Oral Thompson.

George Raygo of Marinette stopped Wayne Courier of Escanaba and Gene Galendo of Munising put away Jimmy Hough of Marinette.

Bill McKenzie of Munising defeated Charles Beleville and Tom Morin of Marinette stopped another Escanaban, Delvo Richardson.

Delbert Mercier of Munising took Gene Theriault of Marinette and Kenneth Lobby of Marinette stopped Laird Wallace of Munising.

In the windup Ronald Magnuson of Escanaba topped Larry Provancher of Marinette.

We Will Take Those Wings, Say Rangers

TORONTO — (P) — "We can beat them."

That was the confident prediction of Coach Lynn Patrick as he prepared his New York Rangers for their second game tonight with the Detroit Red Wings in the final Stanley cup hockey series.

The Red Wings, regular season champions, won the opening game Tuesday night at Detroit, 4-1. The series is best-of-seven.

The Rangers, who upset Montreal in the semi-finals, blamed their first loss to Detroit on "over confidence." They figure they're on the March while Detroit is tiring from its rigorous seven-game semi-final set with Toronto.

Patrick put his players through a tough workout here yesterday and made it plain he was disappointed in the first defeat. Rangers had a 1-0 lead in the first game but Detroit scored all their goals in the second period.

Patrick said "it looked as if they didn't care whether they won or lost. They didn't look hungry. We were too cocky after that first period."

The Red Wings are favorites to take the series on the record this winter. Coach Tommy Ivan gave his players the day off at Hamilton yesterday. The Wings still show the effects of the gruelling semi-final against Toronto, that was decided only by two minutes of overtime in the seventh game.

Ivan said ace left-winger Ted Lindsay would start tonight, after being rested because of a back injury. Detroit lacks only two players, Gordie Howe and Jimmy Peters. Howe, who suffered a head injury in the first semi-final game against Toronto, left the hospital at Detroit yesterday, but is through for the season.

There were 23 records broken and one tied in the 35 final events.

The other winners: Intermediate boys, Denny O'Connor, Detroit; intermediate girls, the between Andrea McLaughlin, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Janet Backman, Wilmington, Mass.; Junior Boys, Bob Claypole, Pasadena, Calif., junior girls, Jean Simon, Chicago.

Juvenile boys, Kenneth Le Bel, Lake Placid, N. Y.; juvenile girls, Nancy Viner, Pittsfield, Mass.; midget boys, Allen Olsen, Chicago; midget girls, Ann Cooper, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

NEW YORK — (P) — The frisky, good looking Bauer sisters will swing at golf balls for pay from now on.

Marlene, 16, and Alice, 22, said yesterday, through father Dave, they were giving up their amateur standing to join the professionals.

They will enter their first tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif., April 29 under the management of Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the Women's Professional Golf association. Opponents will include pro Babe Didrickson Zaharias and Patty Berg.

Marlene won the national junior girls title and reached the national women's amateur semifinals last year. She was voted woman athlete of the year in the annual Associated Press poll.

Corcoran said the girls will play at Chicago May 6-7, at Cleveland May 13-14 and White Plains, N. Y., May 20-21.

Central U. P. League Honor Team Has 2 Rapid River Boys

Baseball Loop Opening Set For May 14

GULLIVER—The Central U. P. Baseball league will swing into action Sunday, May 14.

Starting date was set at a meeting of managers and league officers Tuesday at Seney. The schedule is being drawn up and will be announced at a later meeting.

Seven teams already have entered. They are Gulliver, Seney, Germfask, Blaney, Shingleton, Nubinway and Grand Marais.

It is expected another team will be added before deadline time to make it a full eight-team league.

Officers elector are: Commissioner, Glenn Short of Seney; assistant commissioner, Fred Lesica of Manistique, and secretary-treasurer, Pat Sadley of Seney.

An all star game will be played later in the season at Seney. The date has not been set.

Luke Appling "Miffed" By Rookie Chico

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(P)—Luke Appling, 41-year-old shortstop for the Chicago White Sox, is reportedly fed up with playing second fiddle to rookie Chico Carrasquel.

The tension over who is to occupy the shortstop post that the veteran Appling has held down for 20 years burst out last night.

Although team officials and Appling himself deny there is anything amiss, Chicago baseball reporters traveling with the Sox say otherwise.

The Chicago Tribune reported in a Memphis dispatch last night that Appling had left the team "in a huff" for his home in Atlanta, Ga.

Other reasons advanced for Luke's about-face attitude from popular team captain to No. 1 critic were his disapproval of the Sox's spring training activities.

The Tribune speculated: "It seems Appling's sensitivities, which have tolerated many things in the past two decades, were jarred by bus travel to and from night games."

"Still With Team"
Last night Appling unexpectedly showed up at the Sox-Tigers exhibition here as a spectator in civilian clothes. Club officials had just issued a statement explaining how Luke is given permission to go to his home in Georgia every year "when the club is on its way north."

Manager Jack Onslow proclaimed: "He is still with the team and has completely co-operated with me. He says he will play any place I want to put him."

But there still is strong belief that Appling is wounded, a victim of injured pride and stolen honor. Onslow has picked Carrasquel to start at short in the Sox' American league debut against St. Louis in Chicago Tuesday.

"I am forced to go with Carrasquel," Onslow said in making his decision. "He has speed and youth on his side."

Truman Ready But Shotton's Hurlers Aren't
(By The Associated Press)

You couldn't blame Brooklyn Manager Burt Shotton if he tried to sign up ambidextrous Harry S. Truman for his pitching staff today.

The president reported yesterday that he is primed to throw out the first ball at the American league opening in Washington Tuesday when the Senators meet the Philadelphia Athletics.

Shotton, whose Dodgers are favored to repeat in the National league this year, currently has the most uncertain mound staff around. Ralph Branca, Don Newcombe, Carl Erskine, Jack Banta and Rex Barney all have something the matter with them.

Newcombe and Erskine visited Dr. George Bennett of Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore yesterday. Newcombe was told his arm and back trouble is "purely muscular" following X-rays and examination. Erskine, who only Tuesday hurled a one-hitter against Greensboro, N. C., was told the same thing about his back ailment.

Branca was to see Dr. Bennett today about his sore arm. Banta's worries are about his teeth. Barney was left in Vero Beach, Fla., to work on his control.

Shotton has Joe Hatten, Preacher Roe, Willie Ramsdell and Dan Bankhead on the sound side, of course, but the season's opening is just around the corner and the skipper would like to know in a hurry just how things will be with his other hurlers.

According to law, idiosyncrasy generally is considered to be natural and lunacy to be acquired, says the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Bark River, Perkins Cooks Land Players

RAPID RIVER—Two players from Rapid River's championship team and one each from Cooks, Perkins and Bark River-Harris were named on the annual Central U. P. high school league all star basketball team.

The team, selected by vote of the players from competing schools, was announced last night at the fourth annual league banquet in the Rapid River high school gym.

The five top players were Keith Cutler of Cooks and Dick Depuydt of Perkins at forward, Don Nelson of Rapid River at center and Jim Gook of Bark River-Harris and Dale Gibson of Rapid River at guards.

Trophy to Champions
Named to the honor roll were: Bill Westlund of Rock, Cornelius Sochay of Nahma, Don Hill, John Hicks, Wayne Aho and Paul Begovac of Treary, Lawrence Malnor of Rapid River, Dale Nault of Bark River-Harris and Leonard Swaggert of Cooks.

The championship trophy was presented by Harold Anderson, Nahma coach and league president, to Lawrence Malnor, Rapid River co-captain.

Anderson Was Toastmaster
Coach Norman Slough of Rapid River responded and praised the sportsmanship and competition shown by league teams. Rapid River was unbeaten in league play, winning 14 games.

Principal speaker was Bill Mikulich of Traunik, former member of the University of Michigan basketball and tennis teams.

Using Boyd McCaslin, great Michigan basketball player as an example, Mikulich told the assembled athletes and students that athletes are a great builder of character.

"Must Be Humble"
"To be a great athlete like McCaslin, you have to have determination, aggressiveness, the will to win and humility," said Mikulich.

"You have to keep yourself in top condition and you can't do that by drinking and smoking. In 'tight ball' games, it is the team in the best condition that wins."

Mikulich told several interesting experiences he had as a member of Coach Ozzie Cowles' Big Ten championship basketball team that played in such places as Madison Square Garden in New York, Chicago's Stadium and San Francisco's famed Cow Palace.

Flag salute and singing were led by James Stoker. Following the program, there was dancing to the music of Ivan Kobasie's orchestra.

Big Ten Baseball Race Opens Friday
CHICAGO—(P)—The Big Ten baseball race opens tomorrow with Iowa invading Illinois and Minnesota visiting Ohio State for two-game sets. Each series will close Saturday.

Illinois and Ohio State were rated the strongest contenders in a poll of conference coaches. Last season's race wound up in a three-way tie among Michigan, Iowa and Indiana, each with an 8-4 record.

The rest of the field will not open league play until the following two weekends. On April 21-22, Michigan will be host to Minnesota; Wisconsin will entertain Ohio State; and Northwestern will be host to Illinois.

Cage Show Lineup Set For Sunday

When the Escanaba All Star basketball team meets the Chocole Co-Eds, Chicago Negro girls team, Sunday afternoon at the St. Joe gym, the game will be preceded by a preliminary at 1 o'clock.

The first game will be between the Merchants and the Clairmont Transfers.

Sam Schram and Fred Boddy have been named officials for the games.

In an attempt to stop Helen (Streamline) Smith, 6-foot, 7-inch center, the All Stars have signed Jack Miron, 6-foot, 4-inch St. Joe high school ace.

The Negro girls, rated as a fine bunch of showmen, played to 1,200 fans at Bessemer last week.

They bring to Escanaba a fine victory record against men's teams throughout the country.

Proceeds from the game will be used to finance an independent softball team.

Wolverines Trip VMI Crew, 4 to 1
LEXINGTON, Va.—(P)—Al Virginia and Ed Grenoski pitched the University of Michigan to a 4-1 victory over Virginia Military institute yesterday.

The only VMI run came when Al Green's hit scored Red Patton in the seventh.

The Wolverines got off to a one-run lead in the first inning and held the advantage all the way. Bill Bucholz singled in the first and came home on Leo Kobeski's single.

In the fourth Bob Wolff singled home Pete Palmer, who had tripled. Wolff singled home Pete Palmer, who had tripled. Wolff and Bill Morrison got the other Michigan runs in the sixth and seventh innings.
